HECTIC MARKET CLOSES STRONG

Professionals Fail to Drive Public Out-Steel Earnings Welcome Surprise.

By BROADAN WALL.

New York, July 29 — Another attempt was made today by professionals to frighten the public out of the stock market. It succeeded in many stocks and in all of them part of the day. But in the afternoon the When lan issues came to the front with such a rush that they saved the situation. In the last few minutes of trading, United States Steel was a tower of rength and the market closed with material net losses, but strong and with a rising tendency. After the close, the United States Steel Corporation announced earnings for the for the second quarter of the year These were much better than expect ed, and, in addition to the earnings.

E. H. Gary, chairman of the corporation, gave an optimistic talk that was worth more than figures. It had been expected that the earnings would show nothing at all for the common stock, but they did show $2.20 a shown stock but they did show $2.20 a shown stock, but they did show $2.29 a share after taxes. In the first quarter the corresponding earnings were $2.20. The turn of the tide came in May, in which the lowest net of the year was recorded. recorded. June showed an increase of $1,300,000 over May, and July is running very much better than that, so that the third quarter will probably show not less than 5 per cent carned on the common stock.

The big sensation of the day was the false report from Washington that the Federal Reserve board in its meeting was discussing the loan sit-uation in Wall street and would isuation in Wall street and would issue a warning and perhaps discipline
"the street" for being too optimistic.
It was only after the board meeting adjourned without any announcement that the financial district realized
how it had been imposed upon.
Railroad earnings that were published for the month of June showed comforting increases in net. These,
however, do not furnish a safe guide for the investor because traffic has for the investor because traffic has been diverted out of channels in which it will run under private own-ership. Another new scheme for handling the railroads was presented by the New England patriots. Any one of a dozen plans that have been pre-sented would be good. The outstand-ing fact is that the railroads are in a demoralized condition, something like the telephones, and even sincerely good management would have trouble making both ends meet.

NEW YORK PRODUCE.

New York, July 29.—Sharp losses brought about liberal offerings occurred in the cotton market today and the list displayed little rallying power, nowithstanding repeated efforts on the part of room traders to start a covering movement. Stop loss orders were uncoversed and all months broke through the sc level, led by October, which was under the greatest pressure moor of the time. The break in October was taken to mean the willingness of the South to sell an better weather and crop advices, which were more favorable than for some time. This was first notice day on August, but noise was issued as far as could be learned, although urgent selling of that position by one broker suggested that there might have been some out.

In the final hour the undertone was week.

New York, July 29.—Bank clearings here today totaled, $308,813,446.

They put the body on a stretcher before the father saw and took it to undertaking rooms. The police didn't want him to look upon it—not then.
Wilkinson dressed, left off his collar, folded down the neck of his shirt, put on his coat, and went to the Chicago Avenue police station. His eyes were dry; his voice was calm, though now and then the listener could detect a tremble in it. He didn't say much, just sat in a chair and held his hat and mostly looked at the floor. He seemed like

It was evident he didn't like to mention Fitzgerald's name, didn't like to speak of him at all.

"'Dolly'! The whole neighborhood knew her by that name. A sunshiny little thing, blue eyes, blonde hair, with a smile for every one. I saw her last on Monday night, when she was saying her prayers before going to bed. "She got dressed quickly Tuesday morning, for she was going to the playground for the first time, and she playground for the hist time, and she was easer to go. Usually she stayed around the house and played a bit before getting dressed. I didn't see her. Her mother was telling me. She ate her breakfast quickly and danced away-danced away-and it was the last meal she ate.

"Dolly" Never Came Back.

"My eldest daughter set a little lunch for her that noon, but Dolly never came back.' Mr. Wilkinson went to the under-taking rooms with a friend. He sat there while the coroner waited for the physicians to finish the post mortem and for the coming of Acting Chief Alcock and the representative of the state's attorney.
